PROTECT OUR FARMERS

Outline Of Proposed Plan, With Arguments In Its Favor.

Third Article by John R. Kuhn.

The Plan.

Prevail on Congress for legislation along the line of the Grain Futures Act; whereby the Government shall guarantee to producers of grain the minimum price of three and a half cents per bushel ($2.10 per bushel); and to producers of cotton the minimum price of fifteen cents per pound ($75 per bale); to be paid directly to the producers upon delivery of the product at any "contract market."

Observations.

This desired legislation appears to be in behalf of only the farmer and the planter; but it is in reality for the benefit of all persons who obtain or ask for daily bread, and who wear or desire cotton clothing.

Among the arguments advanced in its favor may be stated the fact that the increase in the price of wheat—from $1.10 to $2.10 per bushel—would suffice to remove the depression, which exists in all our Eastern, Middle and Western States; and especially in those devoted almost exclusively to production of wheat; while such increase would not, in the slightest, advance the prices charged for bread, nor seriously diminish the profits of bakers, and intermediaries between the producer and consumer.

The cost of raising wheat anywhere in the United States is not less than two dollars per bushel; but because of the investigation of speculators, and the importation by them of 200 million bushels from Canada, the tariff on which at 30 cents, sixty million dollars, has not been collected, (except about four million dollars), the price allowed our farmers for their grain since the beginning of 1923, has generally, been below one dollar per bushel.

A "contract market" is a designation employed in the Grain Futures Act, and includes all persons and combinations of persons who buy, sell, mill, manipulate, import, transport, and export, grain, flour, &c., in interstate commerce. By the provisions of that Act, which was passed Sept. 21, 1922, all "contract markets" are placed under supervision of the Secretary of Agriculture; and from the U. S. Treasury is appropriated for use of that official whatever funds may be necessary. (The validity of the Grain Futures Act was affirmed by the Supreme Court of the U. S. April 15, 1923.)

With respect to cotton, and the necessity for guaranteeing an adequate minimum price to the producers of it—the class is different from that of wheat—for, because of conspiracy in restraint of production, the supply has been arbitrarily diminished; and the market price advanced from the ordinary rate of ten or twelve cents per pound to 30 and 36 cents per pound.

The desired legislation is for a Law similar in construction and design to the Grain Futures Act—providing for supervision and regulation of all existing "contract markets;" and the creation of more, where needed for grain and cotton; and that such agencies shall comply with all rules prescribed by said Secretary.

Funds for Transaction of Business.

It is calculated that no immense fund will be required in the transaction of this business; and that through local National Banks the Secretary will supply cash and credit upon adequate bond or other security required from each licensed "contract market."

At the guaranteed minimum price, the Government must supply the funds to pay for the grain and cotton delivered; but the demand for the products will increase the price above the minimum, and thereupon the business will be continued by the agencies on their own account; and additional funds will not be required; although, the responsibility will continue.

To all who study the situation it must be clear that agriculturists are in no wise responsible for prevailing rural conditions; because whereof rural districts are starved and abandoned by the young men and women, and also by active, elderly people, who can get away to factory towns, the large cities and their suburbs.

Two Causes of Depression.

1st. From time immemorial the practice by the shapers of forestalling the market has been condemned as an outrage upon the common people, and against the common law. This, however, is a trivial offense, compared with the practice which has continued through many Administrations—since that of President Grant—of creating and maintaining monopolies in restraint of trade, which are condemned and prohibited also by Statutes.

Ever since the adoption of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law its enforcement has been resisted; and after extended litigation, compromises have in many cases been effected, whereby the Trust in question was placed under restraint and permitted to continue its operations.

By such negotiations, the Government was enabled to enlarge the advantages of the Post Office Department by the Mone y Order System, and the Parcel Post Service; and equally within the functions of the Government is the necessity, now apparent, of dealing with the Grain Trust, which presumes to hold and operate monopoly in the buying and selling of grain in interstate commerce; and with the Cotton Trust which exercises similar prerogatives respecting cotton.

2nd. The second cause to which the depressed conditions of agriculturists is directly assignable is the tariff imposed upon transportation of Canadian Wheat, and failure by the Government to enforce its collection.

There is no occasion, necessity or excuse for the importation of any wheat from Canada; and our wheat farmers deserve and demand protection against continuance of the practice. The tariff of 30 cents per bushel upon 200 million bushels imported last year should have brought the aggregate revenue of 60 million dollars, and it appears that less than four million dollars was collected. The provision permitting importation of wheat in bond is detrimental to the interests of all concerned, except the importers who profit by it. To protect the farmers—the tariff should be increased to $1.68 per bushel, and collected in cash upon every bushel imported.

This tariff extends no favor or advantage to the Canadian farmer who receives 65 or 70 cents per bushel for his wheat; the purchaser assuming responsibility for the tariff. The quality which may be imported "under bond" into the U. S. may include 70 per cent of the whole yield of 45 million acres, which in 1923 amounted to 950 million bushels; more than enough to supply the domestic requirements of our people, and obviate the necessity of raising any wheat in the U. S.

The Government of Canada derives no advantage in having this wheat marketed across the border; and it supplies ample facilities for transporting it all to the great elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, and through the Welland Canal and St. Lawrence River to Montreal and along to Liverpool.

The tariff which permits importation of wheat "in bond" is pernicious; and cannot be corrected by imposing 40 per cent, or 400 per cent increase—so long as the cash duty is not exacted.

A Penitentiary Sentence.

At a session of the Court of Quarter Sessions on Monday morning David Johnson, colored, and blind, was brought into Court. He had pleaded guilty to the charge of criminal assault on four young girls. Being called before Court, C. S. Duncan, Esq., stated that Mrs. Johnson asked him to plead for her husband because of the blindness of the prisoner. The Court in sentencing stated that the Court felt Johnson had assisted the young girls on a downward path from which it would be hard to return and that the continued residence of prisoner here would be a menace to the community. Then on the four charges he was given a penitentiary sentence of not less than two and a half years in each case and not over five years, or a total of not less than ten and not over twenty years.

Daniel Starnor, who had come into Court on a like charge to which he had plead nolle contendere, then indicated a desire to withdraw his plea, and he was remanded to jail. A withdrawal of his plea would have the effect of sending the Starnor case for trial at the April Court.

On last Saturday Berkley Grove, of near Gettysburg, plead guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and received the maximum sentence under the new law of 1923 of $200 and costs of $23.50.

Plant-and more Plant

During 1922 we added twenty millions of dollars' worth of equipment to our plant in Pennsylvania. Last year the figure was thirty millions. Those were record-breaking years. This year it will be forty millions. As far as we can see now, the coming five years will require about $173,000,000.

Although the figures are large, we're in this business to give you all the service you need when you want it and where you want it.

That's why we're spending these millions of dollars in Pennsylvania.

And all of it is for construction—none of it goes for operating expenses. None of it goes for maintaining the equipment; although, of course, both maintenance and operating expenses increase as the telephone plant grows.

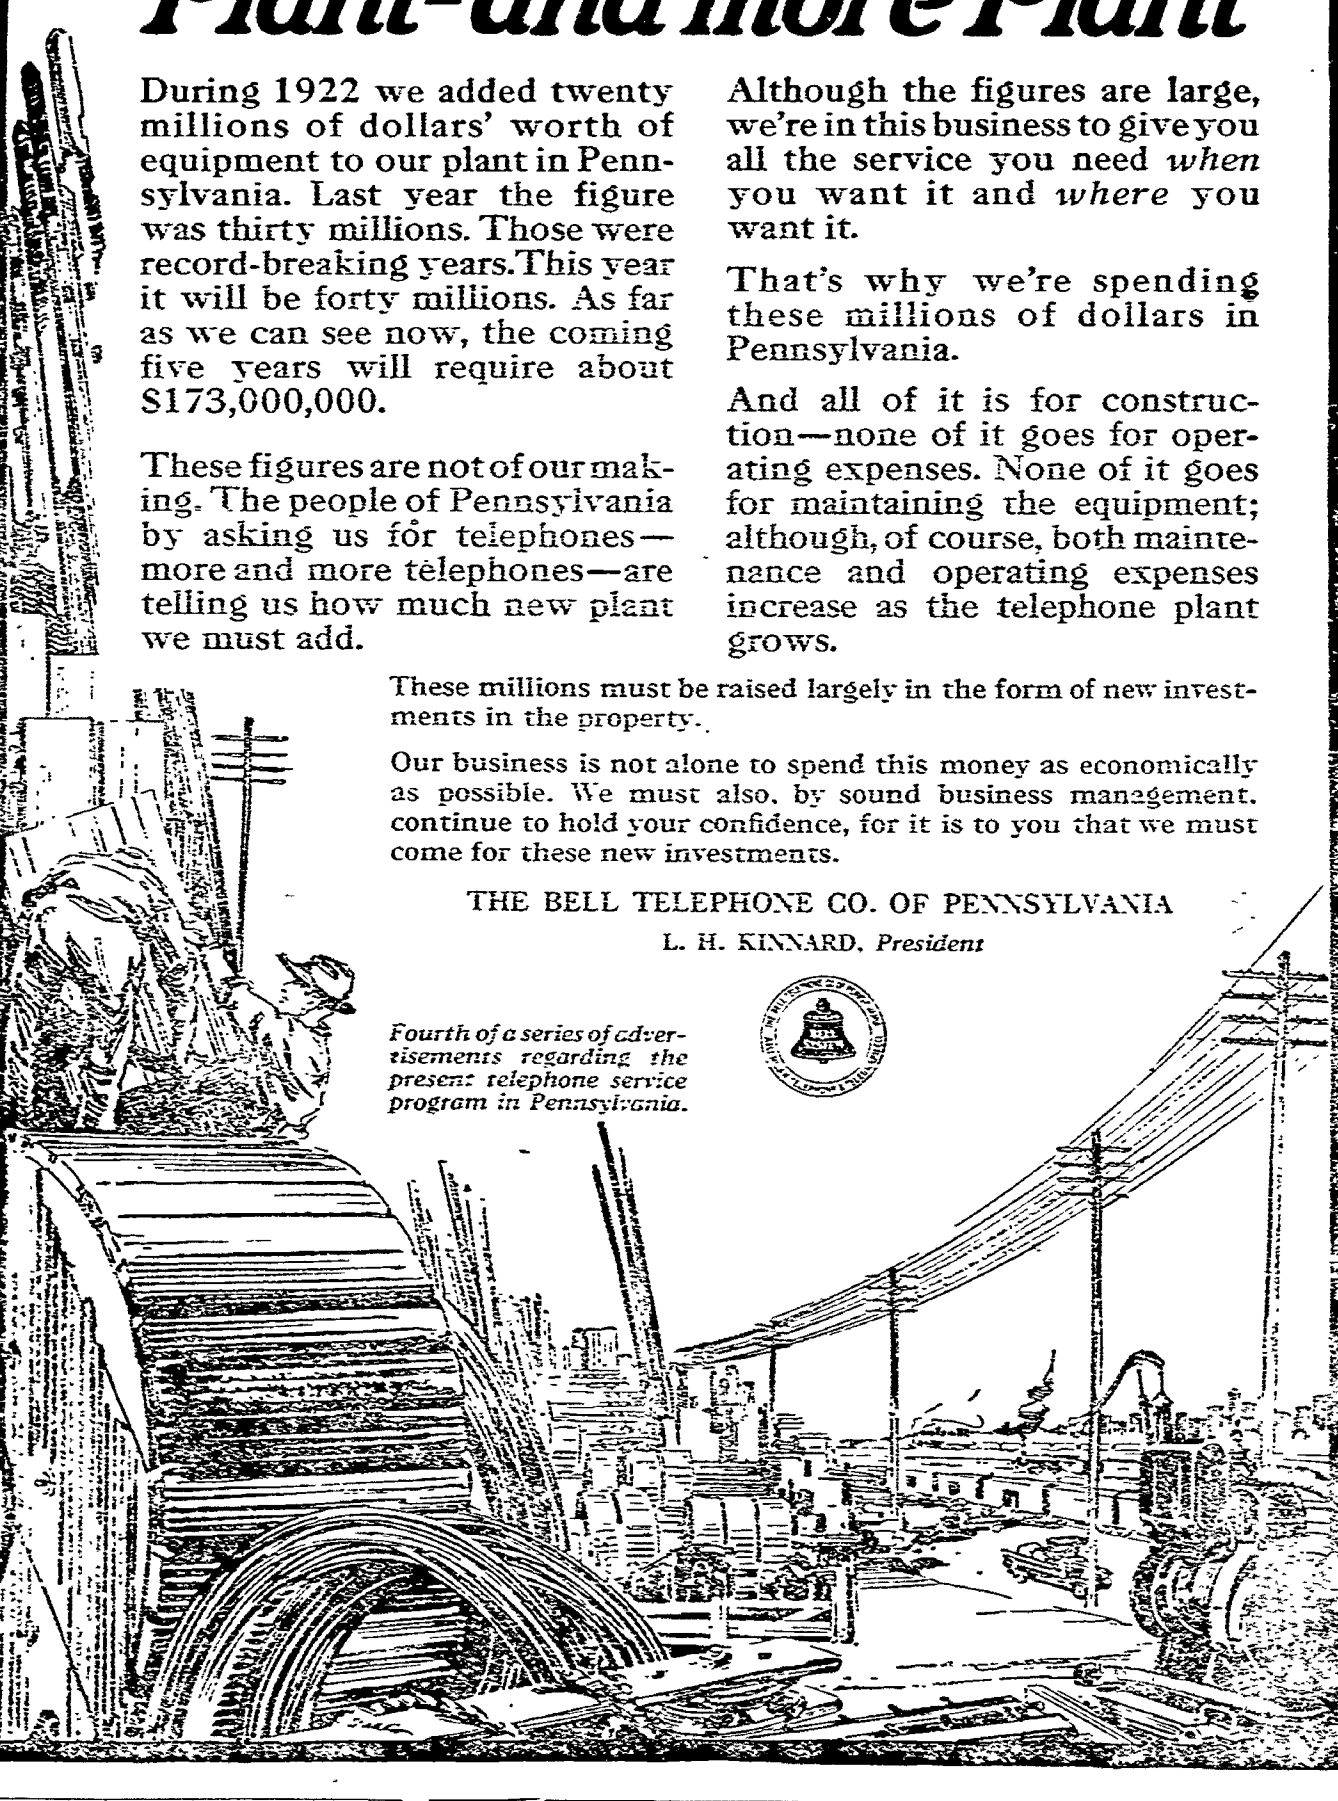

These figures are not of our making. The people of Pennsylvania by asking us for telephones—more and more telephones—are telling us how much new plant we must add.

These millions must be raised largely in the form of new investments in the property.

Our business is not alone to spend this money as economically as possible. We must also, by sound business management, continue to hold your confidence, for it is to you that we must come for these new investments.
